

Dr. Eleanor Kwan joined the Centre for Applied English Studies in 2009 and has experience in teaching undergraduate and postgraduate English enhancement courses for students from different disciplines. She is currently working on an interuniversity UGC funded project Online Support for Academic Writing for Engineering Curriculum, which aims at developing an online learning resource for academic writing for Engineering postgraduate students.